Benson.
Old Chapel Lodge of Good Templars is still alive and flourishing at its headquarters in the Church and school-house near Squire Moore's, about a mile and a half North of this, on the ridge road hence to St. John's.
It has done a great deal of good in its time, in that neighborhood, and is still doing good, because it has won and still holds a good many men to life of sobriety and usefulness, who would otherwise occasionally kick out of the trees and play the mischief generally.
It is understood on that Mr. Don Glasgow will be a candidate for reelection to the post of Sergeant-at-Arms of our Legislature. He made so excellent an officer in the last year, that such entire satisfaction was felt that he ought to be re-elected without the slightest trouble. In fact, under the well known and time honored usages of his party, he is entitled to the indorsement of a reelection.

The crops heretofore have been sadly salty cut short by the drought, such drought which is an old story now but will ever be remembered as about the longest we ever had within the memory of man.
Still there are some of the neighbors who have succeeded with their tobacco crops surprisingly, in spite of the drought, viz: Eq John Hamilton, Mr. Pres. Pattie and perhaps others. And all of them are wonderfully well pleased with present prices of "the weed," and prospective, too—"you bet."

By-the-by, Mr. Editor, speaking of drouths, it is an admitted fact that they have been growing longer, and of course more destructive to all sorts of crops, in this section ever since the timber was shaved off of that "wilderness" of several thousand acres of forest North and West of "St. John's in the Wilderness" as it is called, but which is in the wilderness no longer. They began cutting off the timber about the time the Flat Creek-pike was finished as far as Antioch—say, about ten or twelve years ago. As many larvae, which formerly "lived with milk and honey," have been made arid deserts, by this practice of cutting off all the timber and thus destroying the regular procession of "the early and the latter rains"—therefore, our people ought to take the lesson to heart and, at once, while it is yet time, require our legislators to enact those forestry laws recommended by our learned State Geologist.

A majority of our Benson Precinct people have never been satisfied with the route upon which the "pike" hence to Frankfort was built. It is so crooked and so out of the way, and then, it is too narrow, and is badly built. Why, sir, it is not least a mile, some say a mile and a half further from here to town by the creek than it is by the old dirt road by the way of Sherill Collins.
Besides, everybody concludes that it is more dangerous driving a team of any sort up or down Devil's Hollow than it would be to cross the railroad at all, and that you on the nearest possible route, without running along the edge of any dangerous precipices or down any diabolical "hollows" or internal ravines. Besides, it will be several feet wider than the present narrow groove, rugged concern, mentioned a trip.

I see a deal of talk in the newspaper lately about "Old Drennon Springs" and its unusually sulphur saline waters. No doubt it is all true; in fact, I have heard Drennon talked about and highly recommended ever since I could remember. But, perhaps you don't know—possibly have never heard—that we have fine sulphur water in this very neighborhood—a sulphur spring that used to be a considerable number for the elite of Frankfort away back in the olden times. Those springs are just above North Benson creek, just above Mr. O'Bannon Smith's residence, which is in the point where the old New Castle and Frankfort stage road crosses that creek, and "once upon a time," long ago, there were two or three dozen cottages, or cabins there, occupied for several months every summer by some two hundred or thirty families from Frankfort, who went there to drink the healing waters and enjoy each other and their visiting friends' society of Frankfort, as it were, in the cool shades of that mountain region. Now, why can't we have a New Benson watering place at that old sulphur spring, new cottages, with four or five dozen of the Frankfort elite to occupy them every summer? The water, without a doubt, is as good as it ever was.

Howard Bros. are both practical candy makers and make the most delicious caramels ever made in the city,

Judge W. L. Jett will leave this morning for New Castle to make payment in full for his half interest in the Drennon Springs property purchased by him and Mr. Jas.
Andrew Scott last summer.

Notice to the Militia.
The members of the G. L. A., McCreary Guards, and Nickols Guards are respectfully requested to meet at the armory, promptly at 9 o'clock this morning, in full uniform, by order of the Captains of the companies, for the purpose of paying their last tribute of respect to a deceased member of the Battery

Captains.

John Noel, a modest, quiet boy, who resides at the Fire Engine House, died suddenly yesterday morning of valvular obstruction of the heart. He was only taken to his bed Thursday afternoon, though his death was not a surprise to his friends, as he has been in declining health for the past six months. He was a member of the Episcopal Church and his funeral will take place this morning at 9 o'clock. He will be buried with military honors, being a member of Capt. Jack Yeach's Artillery Company.

Stoney Creek.
Mr. Milton Smith, who has been employed by Mr. John H. Moore, on Flat Creek, for the past seven months, has returned home to spend the winter.

J. R. Fears suspended school this week, on account of a rumor that the small-pox had broken out in the neighborhood, but I am glad to say that I believe it has proven to be a mistake.

The singing society met at the residence of Mr. Wm. Smith, Sr., on last Saturday night, according to appointment, and all enjoyed themselves until a late hour. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are numbered among those who will spare no pains to make their guests enjoy themselves.

Your correspondent made a trip to Henry containing the first of the week and noticed that stripping tobacco was all the go, and also saw several very fine crops of tobacco.
The thickest crop was that of Messrs. R. and E. Evans and I do not think I would be exaggerating to say that it is the finest crop in Henry or Franklin either.

Rights of Teachers.
Editor Roundabout:
The poor school teachers of this State, who receive on an average from fifteen to twenty dollars a month for teaching the children of the people in the public schools of Kentucky, have a vital interest in the suit now pending in the Franklin Circuit Court, in reference to the taxes paid into the State Treasury by the Railroad Companies. If they are entitled to this money they would like to know it immediately, and they have a right to complain of any unreasonable delay in the decision of this suit. Let the common school teachers of this State begin to agitate this question and assert their rights. They are a power in this Commonwealth, and are benefactors of the people, and their rights should be respected. The sooner they move in this matter the better it will be for them. Let us hear from the teachers.

The Spirit Called Him.
PEDAGOGUE.

An old and respected citizen of Benson, near Frankfort, this State, dropped dead on Story Avenue, near Adams street, at an early hour this morning. The name of the deceased was James McGowan. For the past few weeks he has been visiting his son, Daniel Mc-Gowan, who resides in Maiden Lane in the eastern part of this city. Last night in company with his son he attended a prayer meeting at a little Baptist church in that section of the city. After returning home from church the old man complained of not enjoying himself and soon afterwards calling his son to his bedside said "Daniel, I do," know what it is the matter with me, but it is the way I always feel. Sometimes I lose the spirit and again it comes to me and I feel happy. I feel it now stronger than ever before in my life, and I don't think I shall live to return home. After expressing himself thus they went to sleep.
About daylight this morning the son was aroused by the old man's prayers, and soon afterwards saw him rise from his bed, dozing his clothes he remarked that he felt the spirit calling strongly and did not believe he could live till he got home. Without eating any breakfast he started out so as to catch the early train and reach home in time to die.
He took an affectionate farewell of the family but had not proceeded on his way far when he dropped dead on the pavement. Coroner Miller was summoned and returned a verdict of death from heart disease.—Louisville Post, Nov. 22d.

The gentlemen spoken of in the above was Mr.
James Goin, not McGowan, and was a brother of Capt. Sanford Goin, of this city. He had been for fifty years a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky, as second class unclassified matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.
Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 24, 1883.

Please bear in mind that the blue pencil mark X on your paper indicates that the time for which you have paid has expired and you are requested to call around and settle.

Two weddings, it is said, will take place in this city in the near future, the fair young brides being residents of this city while Louisville will furnish one of the grooms and Versailles the other.

Mr. John Morris, formerly of this county, passed through the city on the 22d train Thursday afternoon, en route for Huntington, Long Island, with seven yentling races belonging to the Suffolk Stable of that place, which he has been training in Woodford county the past summer. He will remain there this winter in charge of the stable and perhaps locate permanently.

The bids for the rent of the store-room under the City Hall were opened by the City Council Tuesday night. Four bids were received as follows: Wm. Mauleville, for either room, $270 per annum; Dick Higdon, for the room next to Kallenbarn property, $232; E. Hensley, for the room next to Kallenbarn, $250; Geo. Buhr, for the room next to his hotel, $250. Action was postponed until Monday night.

Lieutenant John H. Todd, of the Eighteenth U. S. Infantry, died at the residence of his father, Capt. H. I. Todd, in this city, on Sunday afternoon about 2 o'clock, from an illness of some two years with consumption. The funeral took place from the family residence Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, and was very largely attended, the services being conducted by Rev. Wm. C. Young, of Louisville. The remains were preceded to the grave by the three militia companies of the city and were buried with the honors of war. The deceased leaves a widow and one child to mourn his loss.

Some time since the City notified the property holders throughout the city to repair the sidewalks in front of their property, and some complied with the order, but others paid no attention to it. On Tuesday night the Council awarded the contract to repair the pavements which had not already been fixed by the property owners to Mr. A. H. Shea, who will commence work at once, and the cost of the repairs made by him will be assessed against the property by the City. Persons who wish to avoid expense and trouble with the City can yet have the work done themselves if they go at it right away, but after five days the contract of the City with Mr. Shea is binding and will be executed.

Truth Will Out.

A few weeks ago a sensational article appeared in the Courier-Journal, charging Marcus H. Cronwell, a worthy citizen and estimable gentleman of this county, with the seduction of an orphan girl at Milton P. Craig's. Mr. Cronwell denounced the charge at the time as false, since which time the girl, whose name is Belle Moore, has left Mr. Craig's house and her mental condition at present excites pity for her, while at the same time it demonstrates that any charges she may have made against Mr. Cronwell were only the vision and wanderings of a mind dethroned, as the following from the Jeffersonville correspondence of the Courier-Journal will explain:

Belle Moore, aged seventeen years, is a prisoner in the City Station. She was arrested last evening about dusk at the house of her stepfather, Louis Ulrich, on Indiana avenue, near Ninth street. The girl was dressed up in boy's clothing, and the charge preferred against her is insanity. When only two years of age she was adopted out of the Louisville Orphan Asylum by Milton Craig, who lives near Frankfort, Ky. The other day she escaped from Craig's, according to her own story, and came to this city to seek her mother, who is now Mrs. Ulrich. The girl claims that she has been badly treated by Mrs. Craig, who beat her over the head every day with a club. Mr. Ulrich said to the police that his family has not slept any for three nights on account of the girl. She would remain up all night and sing and dance to the great annoyance of her parents and their neighbors. Yesterday she threatened to kill her mother and father, and then dressing up in boy's clothing, drew a large crowd about the house. At the station-house the girl talked rationally, and said she had been mistreated at home and in dressing up in boy's garb was simply endeavoring to have a little fun. A lunacy commission will be held upon her this morning to examine into her alleged insanity.

Go to Howard Bros., north end St. Clair street bridge for fine fruits and confections.

Mr. Clarence Egbert has been commissioned as a Colonel by Gov. Knott. Col. "Butch."

During the heavy wind storm Wednesday night about half the street lamps in South Frankfort were blown out and pedestrians had to feel their way along the sidewalks. It would be a good idea to have the glass that have been broken out of the lamps over there by mischievous boys replaced.

The body of Gip Clay, the colored deck-hand who was lost off the Fannie Free two weeks ago, was found floating in the river near the mouth of Elkhorn Saturday and a party went down from this city in the little steam yacht, Ophelia, in the afternoon, placed it in a coffin and brought it to this city, where an inquest was held by Coroner McEwan, when the jury returned a verdict that he came to his death either by a blow or drowning.

The examining trial of Sam Johnson on the charge of having knocked Clay overboard took place Saturday morning when he was acquitted.

The Union Thanksgiving service, in which the Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian Churches participate, will be held at the Christian Church next Thursday morning, beginning at 11 o'clock, sharp. The following is the programme:

- 1.—Voluntary.
 - 2.—Reading Scriptures, Rev. H. H. Kavanaugh.
 - 3.—Hymn, Rev. George Darsie.
 - 4.—Prayer, Dr. J. M. Lewis.
 - 5.—Hymn, Rev. H. H. Kavanaugh.
 - 6.—Sermon by Dr. Morris Evans.
 - 7.—Prayer, Rev. George Darsie.
 - 8.—Collection for the poor.
 - 9.—Hymn, Dr. Lewis.
 - 10.—Benediction, Dr. Evans.
- All are cordially invited.

As an artistic workman Mr. Ed Power, of this city, has few equals in his line. No one who has seen the handsome fronts of the new City Hall and Buhr Hotel can fail to admire the tasteful galvanized iron and slate work executed on both buildings by him. It is true that, being over crowded with contracts and delayed by failing to get the slate in time, he could not get up the work as promptly as he would have liked to do, yet when it was put there it was a lasting advertisement of his skill as a workman. It is only recently that he has taken on slating in connection with the galvanized iron, but has attained great proficiency in the business and has all the work he can do. No man in this section understands either branch of this business better than he, or does work at more reasonable figures.

The New Buhr Hotel.

Mr. George Buhr has completed his new hotel and it was thrown open to the public on Wednesday, and the proprietor celebrated the event by a grand dinner, to which he invited a large number of guests, among whom were the Governor and other State officials, distinguished strangers in the city, neighbors of the local press and a number of intimate friends, all of whom did ample justice to the delicacies set before them.

No city in the State can boast of a more handsome, convenient, or comfortable small hotel than is the new Buhr House, and Frankfort has just cause to be proud of it. It is four stories in height with a mansard roof, has forty-five rooms newly furnished in handsome style, which have water, gas and electric bells. The capacity of the house is for one hundred guests, handsome parlor, large sample-rooms for commercial travelers, and bridal chamber, while the office and halls are large and convenient.

The plan of the front of the building, which is a series of balconies and bay windows, was designed by Mr. O-car Cobb, of Chicago, but the interior plan was executed by Mr. John Haly of this city, who superintended the building, the brick work being put up by Messrs. Shea & Kirkpatrick, while the carpenter's work was under the immediate charge of Mr. B. B. Jeffers, and no better piece of work has gone up in this city in a long time. The galvanized iron work of the front and slate upon the mansard roof, are the work of Mr. Ed. Power, the painting and graining executed by Messrs. Banta & Cox, the papering and interior decorations were done by Mr. E. L. Banta, and the gas fixtures and plumbing work put up by Mr. D. J. McKeever, all of which gentlemen have done work which they can point to with pride.

Mr. Buhr is justly popular with all who know him, has demonstrated that he knows how to keep a hotel, and his new house is bound to be a success.

Rev. Dr. J. M. Lewis will preach at Midway to-morrow.

Try Howard Bros. opera cream caramels. Nothing like them in the city.

Elkanah D. Hensley, a well known citizen of the Penk's Mill precinct, died at his home on Monday of diabetes.

A very heavy storm of wind and rain visited this section about ten o'clock Wednesday night, but so far as we have heard no damage was done.

A subscriber in Kansas sends us the following item for the benefit of the friends of the old gentleman spoken of in this county:

Uncle John Ballard, of Owen county, Kentucky, now visiting his sister, Mrs. Moses Harrold, at Farmington, Kansas, killed, a few days since, a grey wolf weighing 300 pounds, and says he will have the mate before he quits the country.

A Conundrum.

Editor Roundabout:

Why is it that one old man can supervise the erection of the new City Hall and boss thirty men, and it takes four men to supervise the new post-office building and boss three bricklayers?

E. P. BRYAN, Agent.

FOR SALE.—An office desk, good as new. Apply at this office.

Fix up your sidewalks and save trouble with the city authorities.

Eggs are selling at thirty cents per dozen and are hard to get at that.

The cooper shops of Messrs. E. H. Taylor, Jr., Co., in Belle Point, are again in operation.

On Saturday Messrs. Ferguson & Meek sold to Mr. J. M. Wakefield a new engine for his new saw-mill.

Rev. Samuel R. Wilson, D. D., will preach at the Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning and evening.

The City has ordered the Railroad Company to erect a fence upon the north wall of the old leading into the tunnel on Broadway.

Messrs. Howard Bros., of Dayton, Ohio, have opened a confectionery in Mrs. Bohannan's building, near the St. Clair street bridge.

Judge W. L. Jett has sold to Mr. Henry Showalter his farm of 79 acres, on the Kentucky river, three miles from this city, for $2,000 cash.

At four o'clock Monday afternoon the town time was turned back in its slight eighteen minutes to correspond with the railroad time.

The Louisville Courier-Journal announces that W. H. Gillis and Miss Lizzie R. Renshaw, of New Albany, Indiana, will be married on the 27th inst.

Mrs. Judge Alvin Duvall has purchased of Mr. D. A. Lord, of Lexington, the business house on Main street occupied by Guy Barrett, for four thousand dollars.

Dr. T. M. Lewis, father of T. H. Lewis, a printer employed in this office last winter and spring, was killed by the cars near Junction City, in Boyle county, on Tuesday.

Mr. Campbell E. James purchased last week of Mr. Jos. Robinson 150 acres of land lying on the Devil's Hollow turnpike, known as the Crockett farm, for $12 per acre.

FOUND.—A pistol was picked up in the street in front of the Capital Hotel Tuesday, which the owner can have by paying for this notice proving property and settling with the finder.

It is not often that three as handsome buildings are put up in one season in this city as the City Hall, Buhr Hotel and Messrs. W. A. Gaines & Co.'s warehouse and office.

Frankfort Council, No. 5, R. and S. M., soon after having been dead since 1877, was reorganized on Tuesday night. The old officers were retained in office until next September. It will meet again on the first Tuesday in December.

A child of Mr. Wm. Coway, who died with small-pox in the Louisville Respite Hospital two weeks ago, also died with the same disease in that city on Saturday. His wife has had varioloid, but will be well enough to return to her friends in this county in a few days.

Mr. A. C. Wood presented his bond for the lease of the new Opera House to the City Council Tuesday night and it was accepted and approved by that body, and as soon as the building is finished he will take charge of the hall and begin to furnish our people with amusements.

On Tuesday Mr. J. G. Green, of this county, shipped a trio of Plymouth Rock chickens, two pullets and a rooster, to Mr. Joseph Goodman, of Hernando, Mississippi.

Messrs. Ferguson & Meek are putting in a large new boiler at their machine shop, and will furnish steam to heat the new warehouse and office of Messrs. W. A. Gaines & Co., and will pump water into the Buhr Hotel.

Mr. Campbell E. James, of this city, and Miss Mary T. George, granddaughter of the late Wm. M. Todd, of this city, will be married at the residence of the bride's parents, near Lee's Summit, Missouri, on the 29th inst.

We were shown by Mr. R. J. Shannon on Tuesday a portion of an Indian scalp sent him several years ago by a friend who was at that time a soldier engaged in fighting the Indians on the frontier. The hair is coarse and stiff and the skin thicker than sheep-skin.

Mr. W. A. C. Complin, of Denver, Colorado, an ex-Kentuckian, and now a special officer in connection with the Postal service, was in the city on Monday. He says that Denver is full of Kentuckians, who, as a general thing, are doing very well in their new homes.

The Cincinnati Enquirer announced the arrest in that city a few days since of T. J. Sheppard, recently of this city, on the charge of swindling. Several persons in this city have reason to remember him as they left watches and jewelry with him to be repaired which they never got back again, and the supposition is that they were either sold or pawned by him.

Fresh lot of the newest French candies just received at Jas. M. Todd's.

The blessings of life are many. Live long and be happy. Don't neglect a cough or cold. Keep yourself well clothed in changeable weather, and always keep a bottle of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry in the household. A single spoonful will cure an ordinary cough or cold. Its continued use will cure consumption.

Mrs. Maurice J. Power, of Lexington, formerly Miss Thompson, of this city, has brought suit against the L. & N. Railroad for $10,000 damages on account of her being put off the train for failure to sign and have stamped an excursion ticket on which she attempted to travel during the Louisville Exposition.

Farmers are still complaining of the depredations committed upon their places by hunters. They post up notices warning persons not to hunt on their farms, but the first fellow who comes along with a gun shouts them down and goes on hunting just the same as if he had never seen the notices. Numbers of farmers whose land was posted have had all the game killed off their places and valuable stock wounded and killed by persons going out from the city, whom they do not know and whose names they cannot ascertain when they desire to prosecute them for trespass.

In hundreds of instances where Hot Springs and other treatment failed to cure syphilis and syphilitic disorders, the sufferer has sought and found a cure in Dr. Guyott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. It cures the blood, strengthens the urinary and digestive organs, and quickly removes all indications of ill health and blood disease from a pimple to a running sore, from a headache to a rheumatic pain. Its superiority over all other blood purifiers and strengthening medicines is admitted by all who test its curative effect and influence.

Geddar, Edam, Monk, and Young America cheese at Jas. M. Todd's.

Quite a large number of horse fanciers from Woodford have been in attendance upon court in the Macey-Paper case.

Mr. Sanford Davis, a well-known and at one time a wealthy citizen of Scott county, died at the residence of Mr. Sam Parrish, in Woodford county, Sunday night. The remains were interred in the Cemetery at this place Wednesday morning.

The newly organized Frankfort Cornet Band made their appearance Tuesday in their new uniforms and presented quite a handsome appearance. The music they furnished was first class and there is now no necessity to send to other cities for music for processions and parades.

Nervous debility, indicated by loss of memory, universal lassitude, constant fatigue, vivid dreaming, unnatural excitement, fits of dizziness, etc., is quickly cured by using Dr. Guyott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. This remedy purifies the blood, strengthens the weak portions of the body, quiets the nerves, produces dreamless slumber, and is the only remedy that permanently cures the many distressful ailments resulting from nervous debility.
